

Stake your new claim for 2018

Create a compass,
a clear guide for the year

With your Stake, it becomes easier to navigate life. When faced with a decision, it becomes easier to ask, "Will this serve me to get what I really want this year?"

At the Stake Your New Claim for 2018 Workshop you will:

1. Define your Stake for 2018, your direction, compass & guide for the year.
2. Set your intention in motion and present your vision to the world.
3. Learn tools to help you stay conscious of your Stake and stay active and on task throughout the year.

Traditionally, people start a year by setting goals and resolutions. These are often scattered and forgotten in the first few weeks of the new year. One of the key concepts in the The Excellence Series is that everything starts with intention. When I don't have clear direction, my unconscious intention will dominate and show up in my life.

Clarity

Imagine being crystal clear on what you want this year to be about. So much that it becomes a launching pad upon which to build even greater growth in future years.

My Stake for the Year

My Stake is one of the final concepts that Randy Revell introduced (Randy is the founder of Context International and developer of The Excellence Series). One of Randy's observations was that even those who have revealed their life calling through Mastery II, had a challenge focusing their intention for one year; this course changes this.
